

Thinking History

Remembering the Enquiry Process

IAN DAWSON www.thinkinghistory.co.uk

Do you remember when we did an ...

ENQUIRY?

How did you start?

3 www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Stage 1

First Evidence

4 www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Stage 2

Asking questions

WHO ... are they?
HOW ... did they die?

5 www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Stage 3

Suggesting your first hypothesis

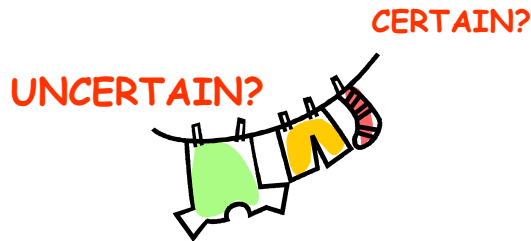

Families?
Soldiers?

6 www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

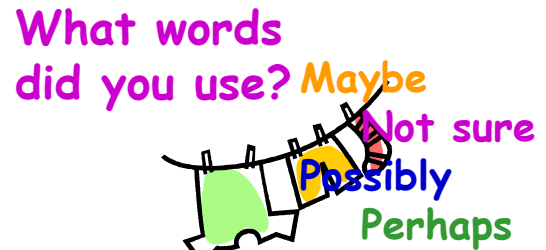

How certain were you about your hypothesis?

7

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

How certain were you about your hypothesis?

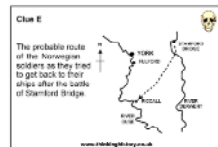

8

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Stage 4

Testing your hypothesis with more evidence

9

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Stage 5

Revising your hypothesis

10

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Stage 5

Were you more certain?

Revising your hypothesis

CERTAIN UNCERTAIN

11

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Re-running Stage 4

Re-testing against more evidence

12

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Re-running Stage 5

Final Hypothesis

13

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk

And the words you used?

I'm fairly sure ...

They were probably ...

I'm certain ...

14

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Conclusion

the enquiry process?

15

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

The Enquiry Process

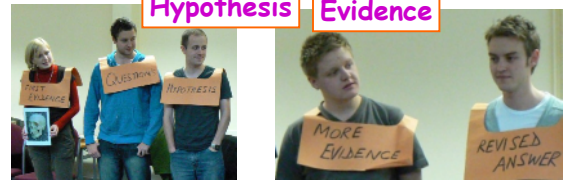

First Evidence

Questions

Hypothesis

Revised Hypothesis

More Evidence

16

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009

Why does the Enquiry Process help you do better in history?

Acknowledgements

Thanks to Dr. Claire Smith and the students of Leeds Trinity PGCE course

To Hodder Education

And to the unknown Viking in York

18

www.thinkinghistory.co.uk - © Ian Dawson 2009